THE Tompkins County Breeders' Association will hold its Seventh Annual Meeting on Jan. 20, 1917, and at this time a short historical sketch will be of interest to both old and new members. For a few years, about 1907 to 1911 the farmers in the vicinity of Waterburg held an annual banquet. At one held in January, 1910, Professor E. S. Savage was one of the speakers, taking as his subject "Community Breeding," emphasizing the value of Breeders' Organizations. As a result, C. H. Bower, F. N. Smith, F. B. Sirrine, C. H. Hoffmire, M. D. Batty, L. H. Carman, H. D. McLallen and C. O. Carman called at his office a few days later, asking for more definite plans for an organization.

Mr. E. S. Hill, of Freeville, was also asked to attend this meeting to represent the eastern part of the county. A meeting was called for April 1, 1911, at which time the organization was completed with eighty-two charter members.

E. S. Savage was the first president, followed by E. S. Hill, E. S. VanKirk, J. H. Hill, E. H. Marshall and N. F. Hopper.

A few direct results of the organization are the publication of the Tompkins County Breeders' Journal, the organization of the Tompkins County Farm Bureau, the annual public sale of pure bred cattle, the maintenance of a sale department for pure bred and grade stock, an increased interest in live stock at local and state fairs, annual breeders' picnics and excursions, and a more general interest in pure bred stock with a large increase in the number of breeders.
